Miya is expanding its global reach Acquiring control in BBL Engenharia from Brazil

March 2010

Miya is proud to announce that it has recently acquired control in BBL Engenharia - a leading engineering firm which specializes in NRW management projects in the Brazilian market.

Brazil is considered one of the most attractive markets in the world for NRW projects.

BBL Engenharia was formed to offer engineering comprehensive solutions for operational optimization of water distribution and sewer collection systems as world-wide class services for the Brazilian market. One of its key clients is SABESP, the water utility of the state of Sao Paulo, which is the largest Water and Sanitation Company in Latin America and the fifth largest company in the world, serving 26 million people.

BBL Engenharia has several contracts with SABESP, including a performance-based water loss reduction contract in Praia Grande, and recently the engineering management of the Corporate Water Loss Reduction Plan of SABESP, both multimillion dollar projects.
